To keep you informed:

On October 13, 2019 at 12:48am, Baltimore Police responded to the area of 211 W. 28th Street for a report of an attempted armed robbery. Upon arrival, police learned that two separate incidents involving one suspect just occurred.

The first incident occurred at Remington Avenue and W. 27th Street, as two non-affiliate victims were approached by a male suspect, displaying a black and silver handgun. The suspect stated, "give me all your stuff" and struck one of the victims in the head with the handgun. At this time, a brief struggle ensued and the suspect fled east on W. 27th Street.

Moments later, three non-affiliate victims were approached by a male suspect, near Howard Street and W. 27th Street. The suspect displayed a black and silver handgun and demanded the victims' property. The victims refused and the suspect fled south on Howard Street.

The suspect is described as follows:

Black male, 45-50 years, 5'8" – 5'10", short black hair, light/medium complexion, grey sweatshirt and blue jeans, armed with a black and silver handgun

Campus Safety and Security would like all JHU affiliates to be aware of these incidents and remind everyone that if you find yourself the victim of a robbery, do not resist and do not pursue suspects. Always remember to stay calm, listen, observe intently, surrender any requested property and report the crime as soon as possible.
